Finishing : Pure Aniline

Technical Description:

This leather is pure aniline. As a pure aniline, the grain is also natural and full/pure. The thickness is from 1,3 - 1,5 mm. The principal characteristic of this article other than its soft and full hand, is the waxy and semi-glossy look. This leather has a very compact fibre structure and smooth look because it was vacuum dried during the tanning process. Being a natural and unfinished leather, this article may have color variations in tone. In addition there may also be color variations from dye lot to dye lot which is absolutely normal.
